Speakers:

Terry Sumerlin

Terry, The Barber-osopher, has been a professional speaker for more than 15 years. The clever stories that fill his speeches with humor often derive from his life as the owner of J.B.'s Barber Shop, a 50-year-old institution in San Antonio, Texas. Barber-osophy is Terry's way of relating the important principles of life through easy-to-remember, and often humorous, stories and anecdotes. It has been developed through both extensive research and Terry's experience as a trainer, salesperson, author, columnist, and speaker.

Mark worked for the Texas Department of Public Safety for 23 years, 19 of which he spent at the Training Academy where he was the Assistant Commander for seven years. Mark was a member of the Verbal Judo instructional staff from 1987 to 2002. Currently, Mark is the Training Coordinator and a Consultant for the Texas Association of Counties. He assists with the vision, development, and delivery of programs for both the internal and external customers of Texas county government.

Mark Warren

Joe Serio

Joe Serio is Project Manager at the Correctional Management Institute of Texas (CMIT) at Sam Houston State University, where he is completing the Ph.D. in Criminal Justice. He is the author of a critically acclaimed book, former editor of a highly regarded magazine, a world traveler, musical performer, public speaker, and popular trainer. Joe has been studying components of effective time management and organizational skills for many years. This class will discuss fear, procrastination, multitasking, and mastery as well as demonstrate techniques for organizing your work space.

Craig currently serves as a Training Specialist for the Texas Juvenile Probation Commission. He provides motivational training at the state and national level on numerous topics including Wellness, Strength-Based Employee Management, Strength-Based Supervision of Juveniles, Self-Development Techniques, Presentation Design and Delivery, Suicide Prevention and Intervention and all aspects of Texas Juvenile Probation Officer Basic Certification Training.
